

BRYN TANAT HALL

Peter and Susan Martin and their family extend a warm invitation to celebrate your wedding at Bryn Tanat Hall, the quintessential estate house tailor made for exclusive, individual and inspirational weddings on the borders of Shropshire and Wales.

Perhaps more than any other element, the venue will set the tone for the entire occasion. Bryn Tanat is a stunning and romantic setting tailor-made for exclusive, individual and inspirational weddings for up to 60 guests.

Family and guests can stay and be accommodated in the Hall and the new Parkland Lodge and The Terrace Room can accommodate everyone for a formal wedding breakfast or an informal buffet.

Cuisine at the Hall is created by our Chef, Beth Patrick and team of dedicated professionals using locally sourced and authentic ingredients.

Bryn Tanat is surrounded by extensive grounds, elegant terraces, lawns and specimen trees. Perfect for a summer garden wedding. In the winter guests can enjoy candlelit weddings and curl up next to the Hall's roaring log fires.

In the Hall the Terrace Room is licensed for civil ceremonies. The elegant green and white crystal lit room with floor to ceiling windows draws in the beautiful views and atmosphere of the garden. For a summer garden ceremony, the elevated thatched summer house overlooks the lower terrace which is framed by crisp yew hedges.

When couples choose to be married in church close to Bryn Tanat within the village of Llanyblodwel is St Michael's a beautiful Norman church built around 1160 AD on one of the earliest religious sites in Britain, believed to be 1700 years old.

The family and personal staff at Bryn Tanat will tailor everything to the needs of their guests who feel cared for and at home from the moment they arrive until the time comes to depart.
